To Whom It May Concern,

This is to certify that Sushil Diliprao Deshmukh has successfully completed their internship with Excellon Circuits as a PCB Manufacturing Intern from 03/01/2024 to 05/02/2024.

During their internship, He demonstrated a keen interest in the PCB manufacturing process and showed a willingness to learn and adapt to new challenges. They were actively involved in various aspects of the manufacturing process, including PCB design, fabrication, assembly, and quality control.

He showed exceptional technical skills in using various PCB design software and manufacturing equipment, such as drilling and routing machines. They also demonstrated an understanding of industry standards and guidelines for PCB manufacturing, such as IPC-A-600 and IPC-6012.

Their attention to detail and commitment to quality were evident in their work, which helped us in delivering high-quality products to our clients. He also showed excellent communication skills, which helped them in collaborating effectively with other team members and supervisors.

We are confident that he will make valuable contributions to any future organization they work with in the field of PCB manufacturing. We wish them all the best in their future endeavours.

Sincerely,

[Excellon Circuits]
